In scientific terms, a positive charge is the electric energy released by an atom with more protons than electrons. In terms of spirit, a positive charge is the electricity created by a Chancellor Charger who has the ability to benefit the world through his or her actions. Chargers possess an electric charm which surges throughout each activity and person it touches. Challenges proudly dedicates its 1992 edition to the positive "chargers" who have touched and benefited Chancellor High School.

Sizzlin' Summer Fun

Summer

As thunder foreshadows a summer storm, the many students who devote part of their summers to practicing and working out to prepare for fall foreshadow the coming of a new school year full of victories. Many sports teams have scrimmages, and some even have games, before school even begins. About one fourth of our students are somehow involved with school during their summer vacations through sports teams, band, yearbook, cheerleading, or S.C.A.

Thunder

Working Up . . .

. . . A Storm

A Charged Atmosphere

Getting Charged

For The New Year

A nervous day for Chancellor Chargers, September 3, 1991, turned out to be a day fully charged with friends, crowds and assemblies. Christine Brown, Kurt Bonney and Nathan Campbell wait for the Junior assembly to begin. While other Freshmen friends await the first day of school, what better person to show Chubby Culbertson around than his older sister Carla. Wendy Wagner, Jenny Wood and Misty Thomas pose for the camera and Paul Lewis studies the yearbook at orientation. At the Junior assembly, Bryan Banner, Aaron Adams, Chris Higgs, Jeff Hill and LeaAnne Holderbaum enjoy Jeremiah Ivan's speech. As Shannon Fulcrod gets a ride to school, others have already arrived and are ready and waiting.

On The Positive Side

A positive attitude always leads to an energetic year. Students portrayed their spirit while walking toward their class pictures at the football stands. On the way, Mark Conrad, a senior, stopped to show off the results of his summer workouts.

Also during the summer months, Liz Golden, Jody Tanner, Jenny Guacena, Natalie Pearman, Ryan Malocha, and Michelle Sanford attended a field hockey camp held at James Madison University. They had a great time and improved many of their athletic skills.

Mr. Pritchett began his Drama III students with a lesson about lighting and sound for the stage. Both of these stage effects are important parts of making successes.

Go With The Flow

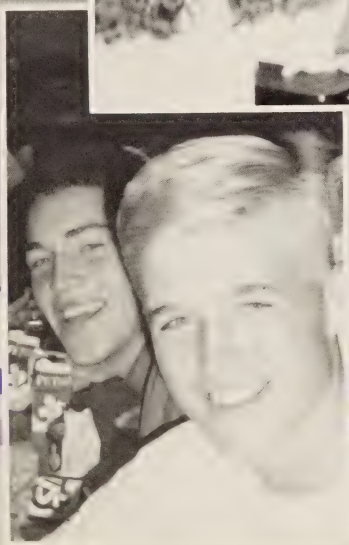
Seniors are surging with energy and pride this year. They are an enthusiastic group and this becomes evident upon entering the cafeteria. They have many signs posted over their sections. Seniors such as Jason Quattlebaum, Jill Gordy, Kristen Boyer, Colleen Hanlin, Jen Ostrander, Joey Bailey, Jeff Cranston, and Jason Hall show their seniority by eating under the "Senior Terror-tory" sign. Juniors Ryan Nissim-Sabat and Dwight Peck enjoy their lunch away from the seniors, but they have just one more year before they become the graduating class.



Sparks flew at the first S.C.A. sponsored social activity of the year — the Back-to-School Party. Dances are rare opportunities which allow teachers to mingle with students in non-academic situation. For example, Mr. Ridgeway shows off his threads as he takes a break from getting funky. Carla Culbertson, Maggie Richardson, Jeff Hill, Stephanie Storck, Tracy Cillo, and Wendy Wagner sit out for a dance to refresh themselves, while Kim Morse and Mike Kandetzki try to decide whether to watch or be watched. Many others fulfill the purpose of the dance and get acquainted with new members of Chancellor High School.

Back To School

PARTY!

Charger Electricity Grows

It's hard to start over in a new school, both for students and for adults. Each person has his or her own way of coping with change. Anita Foy decides just to grin and bear it (top left). Freshmen and their parents listen for important information about starting high school (top right). Sherri Taul (middle right) figures that studying and hard work are the keys to beginning on the right foot. Mr. Calderwood, our new agriculture teacher, reads the latest teacher memo (bottom right). Jamie Ramsey (middle) makes friends and participates in school activities such as field hockey. Susann Apitz and Janina Wieczorek, our foreign exchange students from Germany, meet while preparing to take their senior portraits.

In Honor Of Academic Excellence

On September 30, 1991 Chancellor High School held its annual academic letter assembly. The event was sponsored by the National Honor Society and ushered by Honor Society members Dan Clevenger, Laura Humpries, Hanh Le, Jean Park, Scott Powell, and Karen Thorburn.

Principal John Winston gave a warm welcome to the students and visiting parents. 1991 Chancellor graduate and National Honor Society alumna Tiffany Reed followed the welcome with a speech on the significance of academic achievement. One hundred forty-nine academic letters and bars were presented to deserving senior, junior, and sophomore scholars who maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or more during the 1990-1991 school year.

Vice President of the Honor Society Jennifer Smiley gave congratulatory remarks and words of encouragement after the presentation of letters and bars. Principal Winston concluded the ceremony with his closing remarks.

Preparing For The Future

Each day of school, Chancellor vocational students travel to the Spotsylvania Vocational Center to take either morning or afternoon classes. Among the many classes offered are air conditioning, auto body, auto mechanics, carpentry, cosmetology, culinary arts, drafting, electricity, masonry, metal trade, practical nursing, and printing. The classes, which last for three periods each, consist of students from Chancellor, Courtland, and Spotsylvania High Schools.

Homecoming 1991 . . .

Homecoming 1991 was a week of festivities that began with a bonfire and ended with the homecoming dance. All of the activities centered around the theme "The Wonderful World of Disney," which was selected by the S.C.A. The theme proved successful both in the parade and at the dance. The floats of clubs and classes adapted movie and cartoon titles as their individual themes, and the dance centered around "Cinderella's Ball."

At "Cinderella's Ball, " King and Queen Ian Edwards and Monica Dunn reigned. Senior Attendants included Ericka Billingsley and Brennan Adams, Iris Ortega and Richard Gooch, Kristie Tyndall and Michael Morrison, and Amy Santina and Joseph Ortega. Junior Attendants were Heather Anderson and Howard Kohl, and Wendy Reid and Ryan Nissim-Sabat. Sophomore Attendants were Denise Lansing and Joe Bradford, and Ryan Malocha and Matt Hopkins. Freshman Attendants were Brittany Sharpe and Kyle Gebhart, and Natalie Simpson and Matthew Guido.

It would be perfect if all Chancellor's homecoming efforts succeeded; however, the Chargers lost a close football game to Orange.

There were over two dozen floats entered into the 1991 Homecoming Parade. Above is t Art Honor Society's winning rendition of Alice in Wonderland. Marq Few portrays t caterpillar and Michele Sanford is Alice. This float won Best All-around.

Members of the Lightning Regiment bow their heads just prior to the national anthem before the homecoming game against Orange.

Monica Dunn and Ian Edwards lead the first dance after the announcement of the court.

Sometimes it's more fun to sit one out at a dance and chat with friends. Billy Berube, Sean Fidler, Diana Sciandra, Rhona McConkey, and Shay Phillips do just that as they rest below the main staircase.

. . . The Wonderful World Of Disney

Chancellor Spirits . . .

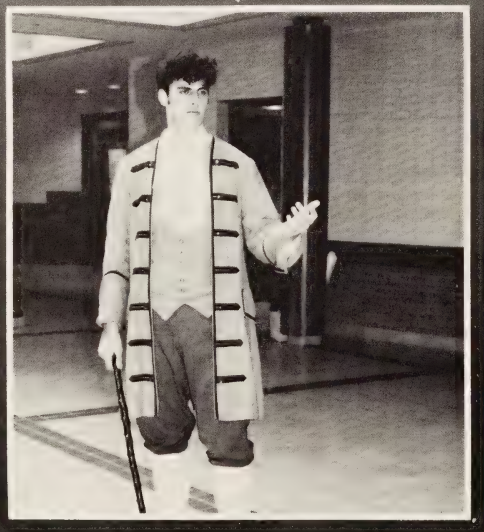
Candy, face-paints, and costumes: The S.C.A. combines these Halloween traditions on October 31 in its Dress-Up Contest. Teachers judged the unique costumes, and candy was given to each winner as a prize. Funniest costume winners were Penny Pritchett, Melinda Cooke, and Andrea Farmer. Scariest were Josh Talley, and Chris Hubbard. Prettiest went to Cindy Pickart, Jason McCormick, Amy Brown, and Sunshine Hamacher. Ugliest were Richard Glasgow, Mrs. Stello, and Joseph Chasen. The cutest costume was Mindy Zlater's. Best over-all went to Heather Huffman.

Not only did students dress up, but Mrs. Garfield also joined the festivities, coming as a witch/wizard (top left). Melinda Cooke, a student costume winner, was a stop sign (top middle), while Chris Stiles and Thomas Sepulveda portrayed mobsters (top right).



Even the S.C.A. President, Jeremiah Ivan, dressed up as a founding father, while the Joker, Matt Sullins, poses with Mandy Walker.

. . . Kindled By Bonfire '91

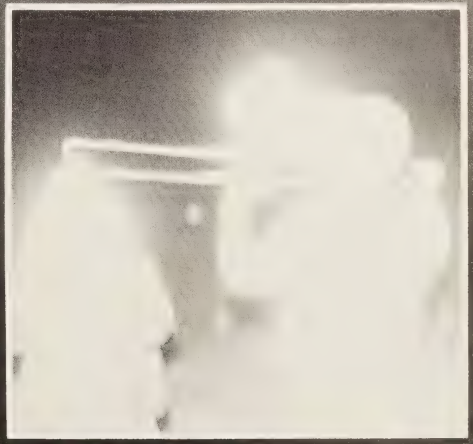
Homecoming week brought many spirit raising events to CHS. Among the most spectacular of these was the bonfire. As the wood burned brightly, Chancellor spirits rose in anticipation of the upcoming game. Even though the fire eventually died out, Chargers spirits continued to radiate through the year.



Is this a Chancellor spectator or just a ghostly picture?

Charger Fashions Ignite The Scene

On any given day, the halls of Chancellor High School display the diverse fashion choices of the student body. Whether casually attired or dressed up, Chargers express their individuality through their clothes. Undoubtedly, Charger fashions constantly change as the moods of the students change from day to day.

The students above may not be sporting high fashion; however, their sweatshirts and T-shirts express goals for higher education. This posse of friends to the left gathers to model the hip style of laid-back streetwear. Below, Donald Funai must bear with formal attire; while, Tracy Zimmerman and Marquette Few enjoy their casual attire.

A Dream Of A

It was hard to imagine a white Christmas this year since the weather changed from summer-like temperatures to wintry cold almost overnight. Even though there were a few flurries, we had to remember the snow from last year.

Students and teachers alike long for the Christmas vacation so they can relax and enjoy time with their families. Mr. Ridgeway wore a Christmas tie complete with Christmas penguins and a tree to show everyone he was ready for the holiday season. The Guidance Department has once again decorated a lovely tree. Seen here are Mr. Carroll, Mrs. Stewart, and Mrs. Portner. Clubs and organizations sponsor food, clothing, and toy drives. Jenny Hendren places something in one of the many canned food recepticles. Mr. Lipscomb's students participated in a Christmas Concert that took many hours of preparation. The concert included the band and chorus, and it truly uplifted our spirits for the holidays through their music and songs. Another event that just happens to occur during this season is the Science Fair. Shown here are most of this year's winners. Also, the I.C.C. decorated a tree in the main lobby that represented our clubs.

Mr. Winston

The beginning of the 1991-92 school year ushered in new approaches toward teaching and learning. Among these new techniques were cooperative and interdisciplinary education. A Battle of the Brains team was also introduced to Chancellor High School. Mr. Winston finds hope in these programs to continue outstanding progress in classroom performance.

In reference to athletics, Mr. Winston stresses that winning is not what athletics is all about. Mr. Winston expresses its importance as a means through which individuals and the school as a whole can gain confidence and a sense of identity.

According to Mr. Winston, the physical plan of the school serves well, and there is nothing he would reasonably change. However, Mr. Winston does see a problem of disinterest towards school in some students and hopes to motivate these students to continue their schooling with increased interest.

Mr. Marra

Principal Mr. Marra stresses the importance of student involvement in the day-to-day activities at Chancellor High School. Mr. Marra believes that the initiation of programs such as student mediation and Natural Helpers, a peer counseling group, will encourage such growth. According to Mr. Marra, allowing students a greater voice in what is happening provides them with ways by which they can learn to solve their own problems.

Taking into consideration that all things are relative to when and where they occur, Mr. Marra tries to handle one hour, one student, and one situation at a time. Personal goals for this assistant principal include maintaining fairness when dealing with different students and their problems.

Mr. Daniel

After being in education for over twenty years, Assistant Principal Mr. Daniel brings experience into his daily decision-making. When asked if there were any physical changes he would make in the school, Mr. Daniel responds realistically. Stating that it would be nice if there were more parking available for stadium games and more dining space in the cafeteria, Mr. Daniel knows that these things cost money and that they are not presently vital to the daily operation of the school.

Mr. Daniel foresees computers as an important part in Chancellor's future. Despite acknowledging that computers enable much more to be accomplished, he confesses that because he has grown accustomed to more familiar methods he tends to resist change. Exhibiting his flexibility, Mr. Daniel realizes that all things will not always remain the same.

Mr. Povrick

Mr. Povrick serves Chancellor High School as a permanent substitute.

Mr. Herndon

Mr. Herndon is Chancellor's Athletic Director.

Mr. Allen

Chancellor's noble security guard is Mr. Allen.

Cafeteria

The cafeteria staff works hard to provide Chancellor students with healthy, hot lunches. Two staff members, Delores Fox and Levinia White, perform their job with enthusiasm, while Jeremy Madison accepts a lunch tray from a helpful server.

Janitorial

The janitorial staff's job entails many duties. Performing one of them, Mrs. Payne keeps communications open by using a walkie talkie. Mr. Keys and Mr. Payne complete our Janitorial daytime staff.

Academic Interaction

Nyree Washington and Howard Kohl work outside of the SCA office during 5th period. Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Jones take a break from their students to eat lunch with fellow teachers. Mr. Winston discusses the day's events with Mr. Herndon in the lobby.

Scholarly Efforts

Mrs. Rhodes doubles her duties by working on planning her classes and guarding the hall during lunch. Mr. Ridgeway and Ms. Bauer double up and teach the ILT (Interdisciplinary Learning Technique) class, which is English 11 and AP History combined into one.

Academic Excellence

Mrs. Yorio looks up just as her picture is snapped. Mr. Keith is absorbed in helping his students.

Mrs. Jamerson enjoys teaching her class as Mr. Moore questions the strange intruder in his room. Mr. Hovanic works steadily on the computer.

Getting it Together

Seniors must do many things to prepare for their last year of high school and their graduation. One of the most expensive and tedious tasks is getting senior formal pictures taken. Many students such as P.J. Brothers and Jaime Bryant had their pictures taken here at school over the summer.

Other senior tasks include ordering a cap, gown, tassels, and announcements to send to friends and family. But usually these efforts reap nice rewards such as graduation gifts.

Christine B. Bennett "Gumby" Likes "K.D." Live life 2 its fullest extent 'cuz life's 2 short 2 waste.
Robin M. Berry Likes Rick, the group, and romantic walks. Follow your dreams, they may become reality.

Rodney Bryant "GQ" Likes being down with the 8Ball Crew, Loves Amy. Am I my brother's keeper? Yes I am.

1991 marked the two hundredth anniversary of the Bill of Rights. To celebrate this momentous occasion, each of Mr. Stableford's government classes sang happy birthday to the document and dined on cake. The school cafeteria generously provided the large cake; while Mr. Stableford provided the candles and a copy of the Bill of Rights.

Seniors Drive Toward The Future

As Juniors, only a few students got parking permits. But all Seniors got parking permits. They also got parking spaces closer to the school building. While in actuality many seniors drive their parents' old cars or something which isn't the car of their dreams, many students we surveyed say their favorite cars are sports cars. Corvettes and Mustangs are the most wished-for. Foreign cars such as Volkswagon and BMW's are also popular. But there are some seniors who still love American cars like Chevrolets and Fords.

When many people get cars, they start staying out with later curfews. As seniors, many students do not have curfews; but many still do. On an average school night, most seniors must be home by 10:00; on weekends, most have to be home by midnight.

As a senior, one can look forward to going to college or leaving home next year and starting to work for that dream car and setting their own curfews.

Heather K. Carbaugh Loves Chris, 12-26-91, 5-17-92, 6-15-92. Two things in life that shouldn't be broken: Hearts & Promises.
Melissa A. Carlisle "Missy" Loves Eric and hangin' out. Life isn't passing me by, it's running me over!

James E. Caroon "Jason" Likes tennis, trucks without dents. Yes, Shin, I'm an Eskimo, like it or not! Hook JM.
Melanie A. Carroll likes Colorguard, Jon, beach. A thing of beauty is a joy forever.

Rebecca J. Case No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it to anyone else.
Rachell Christie No one is right. Nothing is solid. Nothing Held in my hands for long. — Sonic Youth
Angelo S. Cillo
Brian N. Clark Likes San Diego, overnight trips to Tijuana. All in all it was all just bricks in the wall.

According to information reported on their surveys, Chancellor seniors were prepared for education after high school. Eighty-five percent planned to attend four-year institutions while fifteen percent set their goals on two-year institutions. College hopes ranged from Harvard University to the University of Hawaii. Virginia schools ranked highest in the survey. James Madison University was at the top with seven percent, Virginia Tech came in second with six percent, and Virginia Commonwealth University and Mary Washington College each received five percent of the votes. Out-of-state colleges that received considerable amounts of votes were the University of North Carolina, Florida State University, and Clemson University.

Dedicated Senior Sponsors

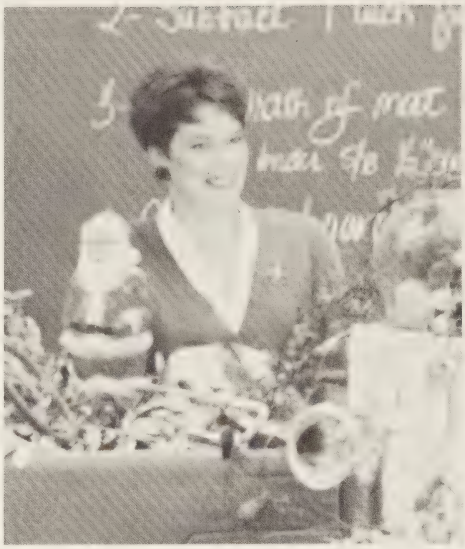
Art students know Ms. Toni Scott as an exceptional teacher and artist. Seniors know Ms. Scott as an enthusiastic sponsor, always willing to help out with creative and sensible ideas. Recognizing everything that she has done to make our last year in high school the best, we seniors thank Ms. Scott for all of her work.



Without a doubt, Mrs. Rita Mullins has been a valuable individual to the senior class. Not only does she spend her time in the classroom helping students, she also uses her personal time to assist them with any of their concerns. The senior class appreciates all of the vigor and excitement that Mrs. Mullins has given to our class.

Katherine K. Rooker Loves Chreighton. Hates goodbyes. Don't count on a second chance, you may never get one.

Senioritis

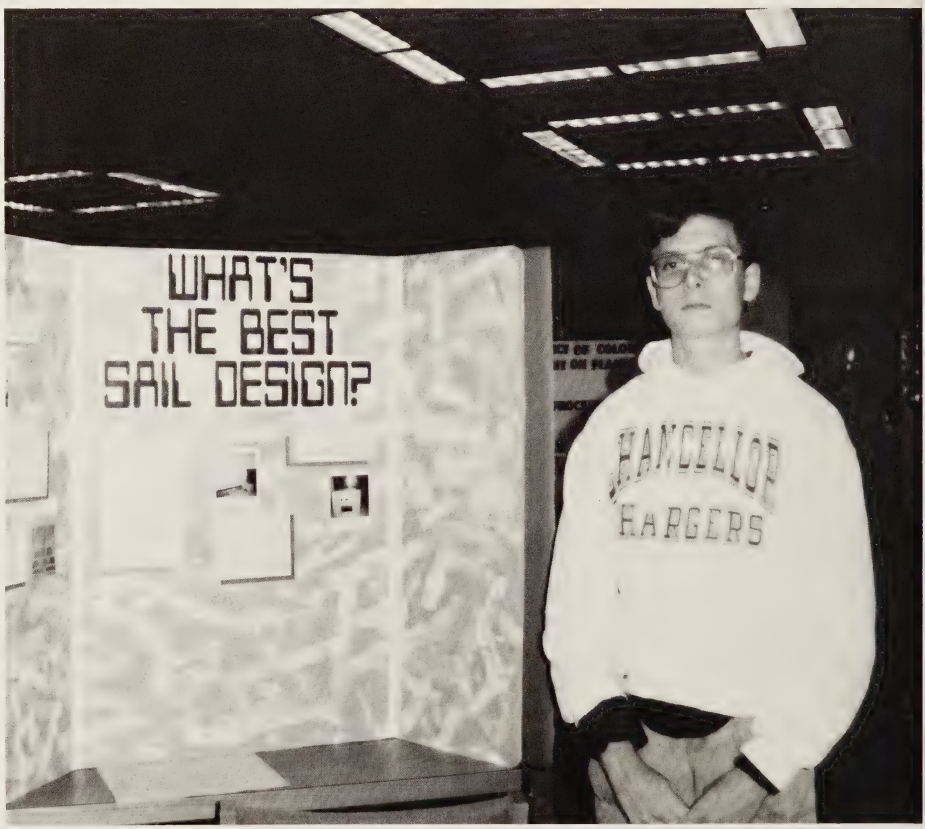
The Class of '92 excels equally on the playing field and in the classroom. Most seniors know there is a time to play and a time to work; therefore, they create a balance and reap the benefits of both activities. Despite this, no one in the senior class can claim that senioritis at least once, and everyone can claim that senioritis should be a valid excuse for absenses, tardies, and late assignments.



Aaron Adler, one of the utmost scholars in the senior class, poses with his second place science fair project on sail design.

Seniors Stress Academics

For three years, the Class of '92 waited patiently for a chance to rule the "Senior Territory". This year marked the beginning of their reign. Underclassmen were warned to keep their distance, and when they did not, a senior was sure to remind them of it.

Thomas S. Zachry
Melinda D. Zlater Loves Tom — 7/24/89, Summer '91, good figure Carry. Love and happiness is all I need. See ya!! '92

Many seniors take their second year of a vocational class and get out of school early to go to work. Standing inside the vocational doors, Mike Blincoe waits to leave.

Despite being sad about leaving high school, seniors look forward to what the future will hold. Old friends and memories of them will be cherished as new ones are made; however, a sadness will always be felt for what can never be relived. Fortunately, the Class of '92 is capable of capitalizing on each moment and will surely create new memories that will be held as dear to their hearts as their years at Chancellor High School

Juniors surveyed admitted to spending at least twenty dollars weekly on social activities. About seventeen percent said they spend twenty dollars a week, followed closely by the sixteen percent that spend thirty or above. Some of that money goes to school dances.

About twenty-seven percent of the juniors said their favorite dance is Homecoming. Those who didn't go to Homecoming may have stayed home and raided the refrigerator. Juniors' favorite snack food is potato chips (fifteen percent). They also enjoy pizza (twelve percent). But some juniors represent strange varieties of tastes listing dog food, spam, and water as favorite snacks.

Charging Ahead . . .

Our junior class sponsor is English teacher, Mrs. Molly Shinberger. Mrs. Shinberger has worked with the junior class since our school opened four years ago, and is a great help with such things as floats, fundraisers, and prom.

Members of the junior class can be depended upon to do more than plan a great prom. Here, Danielle Burke charges ahead on the girls' varsity basketball team.

Our junior class officers and board are as follows: President, Howard Kohl; Vice President, Brent Ishizaki; Secretary, Jody Tanner; Treasurer, Kelly Walden; Reporter-Historian, Tracey Monroe; Board Members, Jennifer Bullock, Julie Burton, Todd Campbell, Marq Few, Jason Grochowski, Chrystal LeComte, Ryan Melody, Brody McCray, Karen Mullins, Dwight Peck, Aric Rice, Colleen Ryan, Jone Scelfo, Jennifer Shoemaker, Mysti Sheldon, Yolanda Walden, Alonzo Williams. These people work tremendously hard on junior sponsored activities such as the prom, and for that we are grateful.

Some members of the junior class were lucky enough to get a parking permit this year. That's a good thing, too, since of the juniors surveyed, over forty-five percent of them say they own their own cars. Almost fifty-five percent of the not-so-lucky must therefore search for rides elsewhere. Yes, there really are eleventh graders out there who ride the bus to school everyday. During the early part of first period, these students are easily recognized. They're the ones who are not late to class.

Many students hold jobs during the summer, but it takes a determined person to hold one during the school year and keep grades high. Forty-five percent of our juniors have a job during the school year while fifty-five percent do not. Students holding a job work an average of twenty hours a week.

Since so many juniors work, one might ask what their money is spent on. Twenty-six percent of our juniors want to keep in style. They spend most of their money on clothes. Nine percent spend their money on their automobiles. Eight percent spend it on gas for their cars. Ironically, three students' money goes toward saving the environment, possibly from exhaust emissions caused by their classmates' cars.

*On Friday and Saturday nights, teenagers flock toward the movie theaters. Nearly every night, they tune in to their favorite TV shows. So who are their favorite movie and television stars? Most juniors haven't reached their eighteenth birthday yet. Their parents still regulate most of what they can do. Curfews are a good example of this regulation. In our survey, we found that the school-night curfew for thirty-four percent of the juniors is 10:00 PM. About eighteen percent have a school-night curfew of 11:00 PM. However, things are quite different for weekends. Most juniors have a weekend curfew of midnight (twenty-four percent of those surveyed), while twenty percent have NO weekend curfew at all!

Sophomores begin to go out with their friends more in their tenth grade year than ever before, but unfortunately they have curfews to contend with. Although curfews vary throughout the sophomores we surveyed, a 10:00 PM curfew for school nights is kept by twenty-five percent of these students. Thirteen percent have a 11:00 PM curfew, and eight percent have a school-night curfew of midnight! The weekend curfews are as follows: Nineteen percent are to be in by midnight; ten percent must be home by 11:00 PM, but another ten percent don't have to be home until 1:00 AM; eight percent have an 11:30 curfew.

One of the most important modern-day symbols of the rite of passage is the sought-after driver's license. Every sophomore looks forward to the day when he or she can drive off alone with no parent in the next seat cautioning every move. Many sophomores dream of the kind of cars they will eventually drive. Fifteen percent of those tenth graders surveyed say that they would like a Ford Mustang, while eight percent say Porsches, and five percent say Geo Storms. In the case of Porsches, there really is nothing like wishful thinking.

The Sophomore Class has more spirit and pride than ever! Yudi Durst, a J.V. fall cheerleader, performs during a pep rally. As a member of the cross country team, Jason Marcus runs for the honor of his school. Angie Rodriguez studies hard with assistance from our C.E.S. instructor, Mrs. Cisnerso. Sports and school work are just two ways our sophomores show their spirit.

The Sophomore Class chose the theme "Cinderella" for their float. The float had everything from mice to ugly stepsisters. On the backboard, a huge 1994 showed the pride of their class. The float was ruled over by Melanie Smalling as Cinderella and Eric Brendle as the Prince. Of course, nobody can forget the evil stepmother, Mrs. Catron.

When surveyed forty-seven percent of all freshmen enjoy playing sports in their spare time. Does this mean that Charger Sports will lead the pack in years to come? Also, seven percent of ninth graders watch T.V. when they get a chance. Furthermore, thirty-four percent of freshmen enjoy Beverly Hills 90210, and the Fresh Prince of Bel Air won second place with six percent.

When we came to this school we were scared yet eager of what was to come. We knew we had to get involved, to make new friends, and to earn good grades. Many of us Freshmen have succeeded in this task. For example, Richard Blasko shares the time with his friends in the lobby. We freshmen find a way to get involved in school activities. During fall, Chancellor experienced Homecoming 1991, "Cinderella's Ball." Even though freshmen aren't familiar with formal or semi-formal dances, we rose to the occasion. We ranked second in Spirit Homecoming Week and, surprisingly enough, a large amount of Freshmen came to the bonfire and to the dance. Our Homecoming attendants were Kyle Gebhart, Brittany Sharpe, Natalie Simpson and Matt Guido.

The Class of 1995 displayed enthusiasm, hard work, and creativity with our class float. We used the recent movie, "Honey, I Shrunk the Kids," as our theme. To incorporate our theme into the football game, they altered the title to "Honey, I Shrunk the Hornets," as in Orange High School Hornets (our game rivals). Despite the many hours of painting and drawing, our float was not picked as a winner.

We ninth graders at Chancellor High School are beginning what many describe as the best times of our lives. High school is an opportunity for us to clean off the slate and begin our mature life. Molly, Susan, and Shawna sit and talk during their lunch period. Philip Catlett and Kevin Pullen are caught as they mosey around the lobby, and Kristi Reed heads toward the buses.

Freshmen are experiencing a new beginning in High School. Although some may take this change hard, most of us accept it and make the most of our future. For example, as Mary-Tyler Upshaw demonstrates, dropping a blow fish into your mouth is definitely a new experience. Troy Gwartney awaits the sound of the bell.

Inter-Club Council

The ICC is comprised of the presidents from each of our clubs, organizations, and classes. Their activities include the organization and support of club and class activities. This improves communication between clubs. The ICC also approves new clubs and dissolves clubs when they no longer function according to their constitutions. Along with these, they assist the SCA with homecoming, they are responsible for the school Christmas tree, staff appreciation week, and Fun in the Sun Day. Their president is Curtis White, secretary, Jason Quattlebaum, and sponsor, Mrs. T. Garfield.

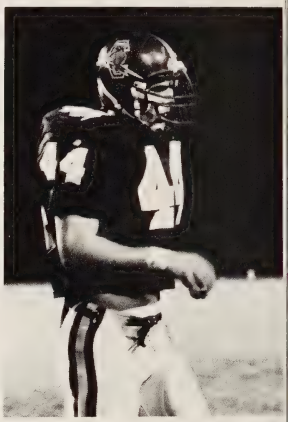
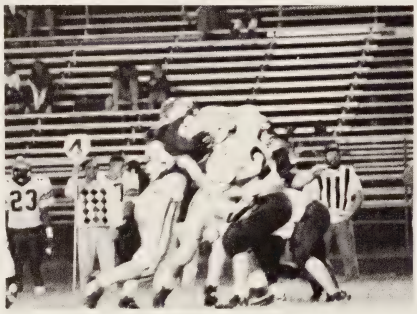
Football season starts long before the doors of the school open. The football players spend hours a day during the summer performing countless drills. Football is indeed all work and no play.

This year, even though we did not make it to districts, we did win seven out of the ten games we played. All in all, we had a pretty good season.

Our game against Courtland was perhaps our best. The feud between Chancellor and Courtland is not unknown. Last year, the Courtland football team claimed "lightning never strikes twice." Our team proved them wrong by beating them twenty-seven to zero. This year, lightning struck three times. We met their challenge and defeated them with a score of seventeen to ten.





Chargers push on strong.

Hard Work Has Its Rewards

Both Varsity and Junior Varsity football teams played hard and won hard this year.

Be Careful Of . . .

. . . Heat Lightning

Junior Varsity football does not get as much publicity as Varsity, which is too bad if you're a J.V. player, since they deserve credit as well. Like the Varsity, they work hard and practice long hours. These students are striving to meet the criteria to be future varsity players, and they do so with heart.

Our Junior Varsity team is guided in this direction by their two coaches. Coaches Povrick and Clements dedicate much of their time to shaping these young men's characters and improving their physical stamina thereby creating star players. Much stress is put onto these two men.

There are lots of ways to make friends in high school; one of the most successful ways would by playing on a sports team. Our field hockey teams have found a way to have fun, establish new friendships, and win district titles three years in a row.

The Varsity field hockey team is known for its outstanding individual athletes. Iris Ortega, for example, has been named MVP offense, and was picked for the Battlefield District first team and the All-Area first team. Another offensive star would be Ryan Malocha, a Sophomore, who was also named MVP offense and made the first Battlefield District and All-Area team. Ryan scored the most goals this season with 23. Jenny Guacena, a co-captain, rounded out her 1991 season with a MVP defense award, and a spot on the Battlefield District first team, and the All-Area second team. These girls have made a definite impact on field hockey this year, they are Chancellor's most valuable.

There are many more players that deserve recognition too. The other co-captain was Michele Sanford, who won Battlefield District Honorable Mention, and the Chancellor Incentive Award. Liz Golden and Amy Santina were named to the Battlefield District second team, and Brigette Steiniger was chosen for the Coach's Award. The Varsity team closed a successful season with a 12-2 record.

The Junior Varsity team showed great teamwork and talent. Finishing with a 10-1-1 record, these ladies open a door of opportunity for continued success in years to come. Awards were given to Leslie Oxford for outstanding offense, and Kim Loughan for outstanding defense.

Jen Ostrander fights using her aggressiveness to get control of the ball. Amy Santina follows through after a hard drive down the field. Amy Burlar gets in position to stop the ball. To get the Varsity Team psyched up, the Junior Varsity forms a bridge with sticks and cheers them on to another victory. Jenny Guacena leads the team through the bridge. Brigette Steiniger and Iris Ortega rest after a hard game. Demonstrating her skill, Kathy Ortega dodges a defender. On the sidelines, Junior Varsity players cheer on their teammates.

The coaches for the Battlefield District champions are Coach Lysher and Coach Daniel. The Field Hockey team will be losing nine seniors this year. They are Brigette Steiniger, Karis Temple, Jenny Guacena, Jena Kelley, Iris Ortega, Jen Ostrander, Liz Golden, Amy Santina, and Michele Sanford. They will all be remembered.

Spotlight On Seniors

. . . On The Positive Side

The fall cheerleaders were in high spirits this season. They participated in two outdoor pep rallies, the first of which introduced our new Charger mascot with Mr. Stableford doing the honors. Later, tryouts for the mascot were held by the cheerleading sponsor, Mrs. Kronander. Winning the place of fall mascot were Kristen Boyer and Courtney Reid.

The seniors on the varsity squad include Mindy Zlater, Kara Cullum, Julie Fellinger, Jennifer Boyer, Lisa Vastine, Jill Gordy, and Kristy Jett. They all did an excellent job; but, as they graduate, they leave open seven spots for next year.

The jayvee squad also did an excellent job. They performed an enthusiastic dance and got their stunts to new heights.

Winter cheerleaders devote many hours in the forms of practicing, cheering, buying gifts for their "secret rah-rahs", and many other activities. Even before the season started, they were spending long hours trying to create a dance and get stunts together to perform at basketball games, along with planning a pep rally. Once the season started they still practiced, but then spent much of their time on a bus to games. Their devotion to the game meant traveling to places as much as an hour and a half or two hours away. At every home game, and sometimes the away ones, too, the cheerleaders give their "secret rah-rah" candy, and if they're lucky, a gift. Each cheerleader must choose a basketball player to be her "secret rah-rah". It's supposed to remain a secret until the season is over, but the basketball players usually figure out their "rah-rah" before that time.

Heather Anderson stretches before she goes to cheer. Shawn Johns-Shelton cheers in the cafeteria during lunch. Turning just before she starts to stretch, Jaime Ramsey gets her picture taken. Heather Elliot stands injured on crutches while everyone else cheers. Jaime Ramsey, Natalie Simpson, and Maija Liisa Walpole hold Amanda Williams up in a half extension during a half-time performance. The varsity cheerleaders take center court during a time-out at a basketball game.

This year, the golf team had a successful season with a 10-3 record. Casey Russell, the team's MVP, was the district champion, fourth in the region, and thirteenth in the state. Despite losing Casey and the team's other two seniors, Chris Harvin and Chris Tate, next year's team shows promise for success.

This year, the Charger wrestling team demonstrated great individual improvement. The results recorded on the scoreboard showed strong team effort, but the improvement among individuals on the team showed through in their matches. Next year, the wrestlers lose their one senior, Kevin Hudson. With the remainder of the team returning, the Chargers look forward to even more success and improvement.

These wrestlers prove their domination on the mat.

Indoor Track

Working Hard And . . .

. . . Staying In Shape

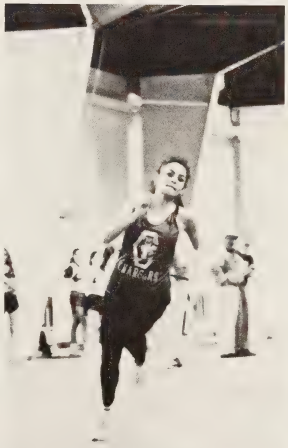
Instead of staying at home and waiting for spring sports to begin, many athletes take advantage of the winter indoor track season. Staying in shape is the major purpose of this winter sport, however striving to do well in competition also plays a large role on the agenda. Because the indoor track season sees only a few meets, members push themselves to get the most out of the short season. As always, intense practice will always pay off.

These runners make competition look easy.



Seniors: Janina Wieczorek, Hanh Le, Kristy Jett, Nyree Washington, Heather Kasitch, Kim Booth, Sussan Apitz, Brett Adkinson, Glen Marcus, Ian Edwards, Jeremy Pendergraft, David Marlow, Joe Ortega.

Perhaps the one sport that demands constant hard work, strength, dedication, and superior athletic talent twelve months a year would be gymnastics. Chancellor gymnasts are lean and mean, ready for competition, prepared for the greuling pressure and strain that lies ahead. Although the high school season lasts only a few months, these performers practice week in and week out, improving their routines, and maintaining their condition. The Charger gymnasts have done it again, defending their school record, Chancellor prides another winning season.

Amy poses before the start of her floor exercise. Overcoming the laws of gravity, Melanie soars off the beam as Kara ends her routine with some uniqu movements. Rebecca finishes a tumbling pass with a elegant wave of her arms. Colleen displays her abilit as she hops up to the high bar, while Ryan, a freshmar performs her bar routine as well. Demonstrating he dancing skills, Kristy is all smiles.

Gymnastics

Head coach, Mrs. Barbara Myers, and assistant, Mrs. Vita Covert, help in leading the team to victory. Their positive attitudes and advice is a tremendous aid in Charger success.

Senior, Kara Cullum, has competed for Chancellor for three years. Kara's spunk on floor and strength on vault has been an extreme assist for the team.

Blood, Sweat And Tears Are Not Enough.

A yearbook is made with the help of a little blood, plenty of sweat, too many tears, and lots and lots of money! We want to thank all those people who have helped out with donations, ads, and tributes. We couldn't make it without our patrons. Thank you.

And what is it to work with love?

It is to weave the cloth with threads drawn from your heart, even as if your beloved were to wear that cloth.

It is to build a house with affection, even as if your beloved were to dwell in that house.*

*By, Kahlil Gibran

Just posing before I do my back tucks. Congratulations Kara and to all your classmates of '92.

Jason Matthew Hall

Memories of our past bring very special joy, because they're filled with thoughts of you when you were just a boy.

And even greater is the joy the present now provides, because the man you are today brings very special pride. #8 & #18 will always be #1 within our hearts.

CONGRATULATIONS JASON
WE LOVE YOU, MOM, DAD, & KARA

There are only two lasting things we can give our children ... one is roots, the other wings. Soar, dear son. We're very proud of you.

Your loving family

Lydia Rolita

Nomads of Ethiopia offered three camels in exchange for one year old Lydia. Now years later through the trauma of teenage years we wonder if we should have let her go; but on the other hand, what would we do with three camels in Spotsylvania?

The Senior Tribute section would not be complete unless we say "Thank you" to two seniors who have helped to make the past four years of work on the Yearbook Staff productive and fun. We will miss you both greatly and wish you all the luck in the world.

Love,
Mrs. G. and the past and present members of the Yearbook Staff

Carla Culbertson

Carla:
Trust in the Lord and do good; dwell in the land and enjoy safe pasture. Delight yourself in the Lord and he will give you the desires of your heart. Commit your way to the Lord: trust Him and He will do this: He will make your righteousness shine like the dawn, the justice of your cause like the noonday sun. We Love You!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Christian, and Chub

Like most publications, the Challenges staff runs its publication on lots of thought, work, and money. New members to the staff this year leaned that quickly when they received their advertising quotas ($450 each!) in May of 1991. Those new staff members include Cathy Guacena, Misty Coe, Susan Catlett, Ben Gordon, and Chris Grab. Veteran staff members include Copy Editor Hanh Le, Advertising Editor Tracy Hoal, Photography Editor Melissa Lanceley, Amie Jones, Jennifer Shoemaker, and Ryan Malocha. Our publisher is Jostens, from their Clarksville, Tennessee, plant. Our sales representative is Al Ramer, and our service consultant at the plant is Chrys Brummal.

We use the Jostens Custom program, and this year our cover is in Toreador #520 using grain #1264, "Whirlpool". The endsheets were a design that combined some artwork by Jostens with the concept of the see-through hole showing the world with the lightning bolt coming from Spotsylvania. This rein-forces the theme of "a positive charge in the world." The book is in trim size 81/2X11 and consists of 216 pages with a 16-page spring supplement. The type we used was primarily Garamond, varying in italics and bold. However, in our ad and senior tribute sections, we varied the type styles to suit the message.

Our theme this year really was a result of the world situation. This year it seemed that the nightly news was becoming worse by the week. Our country was still reeling from the effects of Desert Storm, the economy worsened, the environment continued deteriorating rapidly, and we felt that the yearbook should express a positive message to our students. We also played upon the "charge" pun since our mascot is the charger.

The yearbook staff always manages to have a good time while working hard, but we especially like the out-of-school get-togethers. Here is a picture of a dinner at Mrs. Gordon's house that included some yearbook veterans

For two members of the yearbook staff, every day is a challenge. Our only two freshmen also happen to be our only two boys. Chris Grab and Ben Gordon often find it difficult to please nine young ladies. Here, those girls express their feelings. Get the message, guys?
